

KIRSTEN E. GILLIBRAND
NEW YORK

UNITED STATES SENATOR

March 26, 2011

Dear Friends,

I am pleased to have the opportunity to send greetings to each of you attending Vietnam Veterans Recognition Day. I am honored to join my voice with yours in saluting the members of our armed forces.

I am grateful to our nation's veterans for their valor, strength of spirit, and commitment. With a sense of duty and faith in our country, you have protected the life and liberty of all Americans. Your dedication and sacrifice remind us that we must remain vigilant in our efforts to defend the American values of freedom and democracy. We are reminded of the sacrifices that have been made and that are continuing to be made by men and women in uniform. As a nation, we owe a debt of gratitude to these heroes and their families for their unmistakable courage. It is important that we honor the service of our nation's veterans by making sure that we live up to our commitment to them.

I thank you for your service and it is my privilege to honor our veterans and their family members today.

Sincerely,
